Saturday this Week

will be a big day for us and a good day for you to make a few purchases. Mr. Morse is in New York after Sample Coats and Suits and this means something new in that line for Saturday. Our new Phoenix Mufflers comprise styles that are different from last season's showing—very neatly made and have character of style that is very attractive. Saturday we put on sale 150 single Blankets that are slightly soiled, as follows:

Saturday, November 11 Blanket Day

This sale of Blankets on Saturday should interest all housekeepers who use a blanket that is a little better than the smaller cheap kinds.

Blankets at 69c

These Blankets come in single Blankets, finished both ends (not pairs). They come in both White and Gray, with Blue and Red Borders. They are eleven-quarter Blankets that we sell in stock by the pair at $2.50. That would make a single Blanket $1.25. These are from the mill, an odd lot that are slightly soiled or not fully brushed out, and the price Saturday will be only 69c for one Blanket.

Blankets at 3.75, 4.50, 5.00, 7.50,

In this sale are several pairs of our better Blankets that have become soiled here in our store. They will be sold as follows: Four pairs of $3.98 Beacon Blankets now at $2.75—less than cost; eleven quarter Wool Blankets, $4.75, at $3.75; $5.50 at $7.00; twelve-quarter, $5.75, at $4.50; $6.50 at $5.00.

To make this a banner sale we will make a liberal allowance on all of our Blanket stock for this one day.

The above are kinds of goods that you can buy Saturday and be getting special values for your money. Don't forget that there will be in our garment department some new, very desirable kinds. There always is after one of these special New York trips.

As a special feature for the patrons of the Pavilion, the management has secured a picture that cost the makers about $5,000 to produce. It is entitled "A Tragedy at Sea" and was made by the Pathé American company. The story told is of love and jealousy, the plot is the blowing up of a ship. To produce the plot of the play in a realistic manner, the makers of the film bought a two-masted sailing schooner, placed four hundred pounds of dynamite in her hold and exploded it. Of the scene that was photographed of the explosion, the Dramatic Mirror says: "One of the most thrilling ever thrown upon the screen." The photographing was done at a distance of only four hundred feet from the doomed ship, and the explosion took place in Great South bay, off Islip, L. I., and attracted a great crowd of reporters. It is the only known instance where a vessel was destroyed to produce a scene in moving pictures. The picture will be shown to-day only.
